

South Carolina Annie's Project

Empowering Women in Agriculture

Annie's Project is a nationwide program that aims to empower women in agriculture through risk management education. We welcome anyone supporting the Annie's Project mission to participate.

Over 3.5 days, participants will receive 18 hours of education on Financial, Human Resources, Legal, Marketing, and Production risk management. You must attend the entire Retreat to receive an Annie's Project certificate.

Attendees can expect to learn from a diverse range of speakers, spend time networking, go on farm tours, and build confidence in the future of their operation. A 4-H Youth Development Camp is being offered simultaneously for participants with youth.

Lodging is included in the $400 registration until May 14. Local lodgers and participants who register after May 14 are $175. Youth registration is $100 for the first youth and $50 for each additional youth registered.

This program has a minimum of 8 participants and a maximum of 20. SC New & Beginning Farmer Program scholarships are available for alumni of the program. Register by 06/03.

South Carolina Annie's Project is also an approved FSA Borrower Training! Participants must attend all sessions for credit.
